

Summer School

Empowering Educational Developers to Train University Teachers

7 - 11 July 2025 | Groningen, Netherlands

For practitioners with a role in training university teachers

Designed as more of a community than a workshop series, this summer school aims to bring together those who partner with university teachers in improving their teaching effectiveness. So why a school of educational developers?

We often ask the question in our own work “Who develops the developers?” and our answer has always been—from and with each other. We recognize a need for this development to be an international network where ‘islands’ of educational trainers and developers can come together. So please come ready to learn as we collectively improve the training of university teachers.

Image by Egbert de Boer

Work on your own project

Share and learn from others

Practice your training skills

Interested? Apply now!
rug.nl/summerschools